

HaynesPro[®]

Certificate of Originality

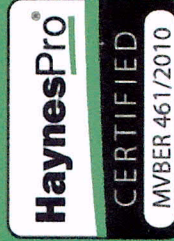

Inter Cars Česká republika s.r.o.

The HaynesPro promise:

- Unless otherwise indicated, the data included in Workshopdata AT[™] is based on the technical documentation provided by the Original Equipment Manufacturers (read: the vehicle manufacturers or OEMs). The maintenance data provided by HaynesPro is based on the manufacturer's actual servicing schedules.¹
- That the "Block Exemption Regulations (BER) 461/2010" rule that independent workshops are legally entitled to carry out normal maintenance and repairs during a vehicle's warranty period without invalidating the warranty conditions, provided such work is carried out in accordance with the servicing schedule provided by HaynesPro WorkshopData.²

Alex Kwarts

1. Defects sustained during production must be corrected by the vehicle manufacturer. Repairs that are paid for by the manufacturer including recalls, free servicing and warranty work - must be carried out by a repair shop designated by the manufacturer.

2. All operators are subject to statutory product and service liability and carry full responsibility for any damage caused as a result of negligent work or the use of faulty parts.